

and in view of its direct interest as a creditor and of the importance of the economic recuperation in Europe it will view with favor the acceptance by American experts of such an initiative.

"The immediate proposal before the reparations commission has been made by the French delegates and president of the commission must have the support of it is understood, of all the allied governments."

"The British government has informed this government of its desire that American experts participate. The German government has also stated that it would be much appreciated if an American expert were to participate in the work of the first committee, as it is believed that in this way important progress could be made toward the solution of the problems underlying economic recovery."

Not Official Delegates.

The American delegates are to be unofficial because, under the terms of a reservation to the treaty of Berlin, it would be necessary to obtain the sanction of congress for the appointment of official delegates. The administration thinks it would not be possible to obtain congressional approval of official participation, at least in time to participate.

The investigations are not designed to extend so far as the determination of Germany's capacity to pay, as proposed by Secretary of State Hughes, but are reported by the administration as a step in that direction which the United States could not afford to hold aloof from, particularly as the proceeding now has the endorsement not only of the allies but of Germany. When all the allies and Germany requested us to participate President Coolidge decided that there was no valid reason for refusing.

Johnson Disapproves Plan.

The findings of the two committees will not be binding upon the United States or any other government. They will be merely recommendations which each government may adopt or reject as it sees fit.

Senator Lodge (Rep., Mass.) and other administration supporters approved the action of the President. None of the Republican irreconcilables, except Senator Johnson of California, would talk for publication. "It is rather difficult to understand just what is sought of our government, or what the administration wishes to do," he said. "The old familiar appeal ever made for our entry into the league—the appeal to our pockets—appears again. But whether we do or do not, 'The American people could better decide what they desired this government to do, if they were fully informed of all the facts. Why not tell them? We've had enough of secret diplomacy.'"

PARIS DEPUTIES TO TAKE JOY OUT OF BACHELOR LIFE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 11.—The chamber of deputies today voted favorably, 440 to 116, to consider a bill for women's suffrage and multiple votes for fathers (one vote for each child). The text of the bill embodying the two suggestions will be drawn up by the chamber suffrage committee and presented at a later session. The senate voted down a former women's suffrage bill.

RADIO HELPS MEXICAN REBELS

1—Rebels have taken Tampico. A party of rebels are reported to be operating between Victoria and Matamoros.

2—The wireless station at Tepic has fallen. Rebels are reported to be operating between Victoria and Matamoros.

3—All of Vera Cruz including the radio stations at Vera Cruz is in rebel hands. They hold Puerto Mexico and now control the state of Tabasco.

4—Rebels east of Mexico City have taken Irapuato and Oaxaca, two federal bases.

5—Federal troops have cleared the railroad to El Paso and trains have resumed running. Federal troops are being gathered in Coahuila and Durango for a drive on the Guadalupe rebels.

Between Tampico and Irapuato, about 100 miles, there is much damage to railway property to hinder Oregon reinforcements from the north.

Rebels from Mexico.

The extent of upper class Mexicans and Americans continues from all points in Mexico to the border when trains are available. Ramon Rosa, Mexican delegate to the American-Mexican claims conference in Mexico City last summer, is reported on his way to the United States to look after the interests of the Oregon government, and perhaps to secure a loan for the purpose of defending the government.

The embargo of the Oregon government has been low for two years, and only two weeks ago a loan of several million dollars had to be made at considerable national sacrifice from the Treasury of Mexico to pay the federal employees and the army.

A prominent banker of the De la Huerta faction already has arrived in the United States for the purpose of representing the interests of the former minister of the treasury.

An incident illustrating the motives behind the De la Huerta revolution may be indicated by the report from Vera Cruz that Heron Frost, referred to by his enemies as the "Lion of Mexico," and the leader of the big strike which frequently have tied up the big port of Vera Cruz, has been shot by a firing squad. Frost took a prominent part in the Mexican City communique convention in 1921. Since the report is being spread by Calles again it must be accepted with reserve.

RUSH FROM MEXICO.

Laredo, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Passengers arriving here today from Mexico City and Nuevo Laredo expressed a desire to be an American soldier. Communications are severed at points south of Mexico City. Americans cannot get out of Guadalupe, Tampico, or Vera Cruz. There is considerable trouble between Victoria City and Tampico. It is reported that trains will not run farther than Gonzalez. Soldiers are placed on all trains at night. Americans in Mexico City are worried over the reports of a plot to assassinate Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles.

Cash for De la Huerta.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 11.—J. J. Alonzo Ulloa, Mexican consul at Brownsville, has disappeared from the consulate there and repeated efforts on the part of Consul General Alejandro Lubert, stationed in San Antonio, have failed to reveal the whereabouts of the missing consul.

Ulloa's friends in Brownsville said that the consul took funds belonging to the state of Tamaulipas to Governor De la Huerta, now with the forces of General Calles in Huerta.

Mexico Treaty to Senate.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 11.—Despite disturbed conditions in Mexico, the two Mexican-American claims conventions upon which diplomatic recognition of Mexico by the United States was predicated, were sent to the senate today by President Coolidge for ratification.

At the same time several other agreements negotiated during the recess of congress were sent to the senate but, although their exact nature was not revealed, they were said to be comparatively unimportant. All were referred to the foreign relations committee.

Prompt ratification of the Mexican claims conventions is to be urged by the administration. Official advice to the Washington government as to the revolutionary outbreak in Mexico, so far, it was explained today, have not been sufficiently complete to indicate that a situation had developed there which warranted any change of policy.

As yet no ambassador to Mexico has been named, and it was indicated that the question of designating one was not at present under urgent consideration. There was no hint, however, that the nomination was being deferred because of the revolutionary outbreak in Mexico.

LIEUTENANTS FACE DEMOTION ON FRAUD RULING

Court Finds Promotions Gained Illegally.

Demotion of thirty-seven lieutenants as a result of fraud alleged to have been discovered in the examination by which they secured promotion will pave the way for complete overhaul in the police department, it was reported in the city hall yesterday.

Before the examination is complete several lieutenants will have been shifted from one position to another, and the new promotions will be made on a basis of merit, as well as on the basis of the examination results.

One hundred and fifty policemen, most of them plain clothes detectives, are being drafted by Chief Collins from district commands to man the new examination, which will be placed in service soon after the first of the year.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan's scathing denunciation of merit tests held by the Thompson civil service commission and his request for grand jury investigation of the department's flying squad, of twenty high powered automobiles.

LEUTENANTS FACE DEMOTION ON FRAUD RULING

Court Finds Promotions Gained Illegally.

Demotion of thirty-seven lieutenants as a result of fraud alleged to have been discovered in the examination by which they secured promotion will pave the way for complete upheaval in the city hall yesterday.

Since the election is complete and no changes will have been shifted into strategic posts to outlying stations as a disciplinary measure and six new lieutenants will have been selected in promotional examinations to be called in a few days by the civil service commission.

Schumaker to Bureau.

One of the important moves announced yesterday by Chief Collins, president of Acting Capt. William Schumaker of the New City station as captain of detectives under Chief of Detectives Collins and in direct command of the department's flying squad of twenty high powered automobiles.

One hundred and fifty policemen, of whom plain clothes detectives, are being drafted by Chief Collins from district commands to man the new examination, which will be placed in service soon after the first of the year.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan's scathing denunciation of merit tests held by the Chicago civil service commission and his request for grand jury investigation of the examinations, led to an inquiry by the present commission which jeopardized the standing of every lieutenant promoted since October, 1921.

Former Chief of Police C. C. Fitzmaurice is charged, ignored an eligible list created as the result of a regular examination held in December, 1919, and on which Sgt. William Baldwin rated second place and had caused a new examination to be called in October, 1921. The resultant eligible list was merged by the chief's order. It is said, with the first list and Baldwin was given thirty-second place in the dual list.

Charge Upheld by Judges.

Baldwin, represented by Corporation Counsel Francis X. Bosch, then in private practice, was upheld in his contention by Mayor Dever, who as an appellate court justice ruled that because of his discretionary power by Dever's in efficiency ratings resulted in a fraud.

When the jury in his court failed to take cognizance of the alleged fraud in the later examination, Bosch found that the first "had been marked and graded for personal and political reasons."

Judge Sullivan, summoned assistant state's attorney, who was directed to take all the examination papers before the grand jury.

"The second examination was just as fraudulent and improperly conducted as was the first," declared Judge Sullivan, who indicated that, in accord with the jury's finding, he would order the list canceled next Saturday morning, when motions for a new list will be heard.

As a result of the entry of such an order, Lieut. Alex Christenson and James Scully, nephew of the late County Judge Scully, probably will be demoted.

Other Pending Demotions.

Other lieutenants who will be demoted if the present civil service commission anticipates the grand jury by declaring the second quiz fraudulent, are: Michael J. Gray, John W. Norton, Thomas Condon, now an acting captain; John E. McCarthy, John J. Farrell, Axel C. Jensen, Anthony G. Smith, William E. O'Connor, Thomas J. O'Brien, John W. Egan, David Schwartz, Emil Anderson, William Peters, John A. Egan, James J. Kil-

Mrs. Leonard G. Wood, new vice chairman of the national Republican committee, and John T. Adams, chairman of the committee. Mrs. Wood is the first woman ever to hold this important party position.

The lieutenant, it was said last night, have employed counsel and are preparing to defend their appointments in an appeal for a writ of injunction to halt the threatened reductions in rank which will prevent them from entering competition for promotion to captaincies in the forthcoming examinations.

Asks for More Officers.

In his estimate of probable expenses for the coming year furnished to the council finance committee yesterday, Chief Collins asked approval of his plans to create six new captaincies and fifty-nine lieutenancies. There are now thirty-five captains and ninety-one lieutenants in the department.

In his estimate the chief asserts that the present number of policemen, approximately 4,700, should be retained and asks no increase for the coming year over the 1923 appropriation of $13,000,537 for the department.

The Cragin police received a report that Williams was seen near Havana, Ill., but this was news to the police of that city.

"CARRY ON!" TO BE RALLYING CRY OF G. O. P. FOR 1924

Dixie Colored Leaders
Oppose Delegation Cut.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—(Special.)—The Republican national committee met here today with the rallying cry of "Carry on!" as its keynote of 1924.

The chief business of the committee to select the convention city and to set an apportionment reduction in southern states, the entire day was spent in speechmaking and receiving the proposals of three cities still competing for the convention award—Cleveland, O.; Des Moines, Ia., and San Francisco, Cal.

Cleveland Seems Certain.

No action was taken either on the convention city or apportionment, but the committee will vote early tomorrow. There appeared to be no doubt tonight that Cleveland will be chosen for the convention city. Fred W. Upham, national treasurer and chief of the Chicago convention city boosters, having officially withdrawn Chicago from the race.

Mr. Upham was loudly cheered by the committee members and committee women when he made a graceful speech eliminating Chicago from consideration. He declared that Chicago had been well treated in the past by the Republican national committee, and voiced the hope that in retiring this time from the convention contest Chicago would find the national committee glad to come back to it four years hence.

Chairman Frances Harding.

John T. Adams, chairman of the national committee, paid high tribute to President Harding in opening the meeting of the committee.

"Warren Harding," he said, "is not with us today in the mortal form, but the glow of his personality, the purity of his patriotism, and the high example of manliness devoted to national needs linger everywhere about. They are here in this room. They are throughout the entire governmental structure. They are the acknowledged and pledged inspiration of the man who has taken his place and power."

Protest against reducing southern delegate strength, as proposed by the Republican executive committee, were loud and long from colored Republican leaders from the north, north and middle west. Roscoe Conkling Simmons of Chicago made an impassioned plea against what he described as "Republican disfranchisement."

The women of the Republican executive committee were discovered in open revolt against domination by the men of the appointment and control of women Republican committees and for office generally.

CONFIRM KELLOGG AS AMBASSADOR TO GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—(Special.)—In the face of strenuous protests by insurgent Republicans and several Democrats, the senate today, by a vote of 75 to 9, confirmed the nomination of Frank B. Kellogg, former senator from Minnesota, to be ambassador to Great Britain.

Despite the fact that Mr. Kellogg was known as "a let" during the Versailles treaty fight, his erstwhile "irreconcilable" colleagues, such as Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho), Senator Brandegee (Rep., Conn.), Senator Johnson (Rep., Cal.), Senator McCormick (Rep., Ill.), and Senator Moses (Rep., N. H.) joined in giving him the committee O. K. Senator Henrik Shipstead (Farmer-Labor, Minn.), who defeated Mr. Kellogg in the senate race last year, voted against confirmation.

FRANK B. KELLOGG

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 11.—(Special.)—Shipping board circles were stirred today by a report that Chairman Edward P. Farley of Chicago and Commissioner Thompson had a fist fight just before the chairman left in October for his European trip.

Both Chairman Farley and Commissioner Thompson declined to discuss the report. Neither did they deny it.

EDWARD P. FARLEY The only comment is a bit that Chairman Farley would make was that Commissioner Thompson was one of his better friends.

But They're Friends Now.

Commissioner Thompson stepped in the chairman's office just when the chairman made the statement and he agreed that he and the chairman were the best of friends. They laughed and joked and appeared to be on the best of terms.

The report that caused a great deal of comment when it spread in official Washington was that at a board meeting in October Chairman Farley, in a heated argument, called Thompson a liar. Furthermore, according to the report, Thompson struck Farley on the jaw. Farley was about to retaliate when other members of the board intervened.

REPORT: How May Reach Senate.

Rumors have been in circulation to the effect that the board has been "split wide open" and that there was doubt as to whether Chairman Farley's nomination would be confirmed by the senate.

WOMAN OF "HATE DIARY" TO FACE MURDER TRIAL

Ludile Kavanagh, pretty proprietress of a rooming house at 1 West Superior street, who wrote a diary in which she sang a virtual "hymn of hate" against all members of the male sex and faithless husbands, and then went and shot to death her husband, Patrick Henry Kavanagh, will be placed on trial for murder this morning.

Attorneys for the defense of the woman will try, it was said, to convince the jury that she shot in self-defense after her husband had tried to kill her. Assistant State's Attorney William W. Smith and Robert C. O'Connell, on the other hand, will try to show that the diary proves she committed a deliberate murder.

The killing of Kavanagh occurred shortly after 8 o'clock on the morning of Feb. 4.

SHIPPING BOARD FIST FIGHT LONG IN LEAKING OUT

Farley and Thompson Now
Friends, They Say.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 11.—(Special.)—Shipping board circles were stirred today by a report that Chairman Edward P. Farley of Chicago and Commissioner Thompson had a fist fight just before the chairman left in October for his European trip.

Both Chairman Farley and Commissioner Thompson declined to discuss the report. Neither did they deny it.

EDWARD P. FARLEY The only comment is a bit that Chairman Farley would make was that Commissioner Thompson was one of his better friends.

Which is your child?

THE one whose face, uplifted, shines with the triumph of school work well done, or the little drooping figure of dejection? Help your children by putting into their hands the best means of helping themselves. In more than a million homes children are learning joyously today from The Book of Knowledge. It is the world of knowledge, so successfully arranged, so beautifully explained, so lucidly illustrated, that a never fails to capture the mind of a child, or of an adult, for that matter.

The BOOK of KNOW- LEDGE

Answers Every Question a Child Can Ask

Where does the wind begin?
Why is the sea never still?
What makes an echo?
Why is the sky blue?
Why has water no taste?
Why does salt melt snow?
What makes us sneeze?

WHY do children love The Book of Knowledge so First, because the pictures show upon and hold the child's attention. Second, because of the beautiful simple language in which the descriptions are written. Third, because of the different ways of telling the same thing—by pictures, by articles, by summary. Fourth, the strong appeal to the child's heart and imagination. It is the first serious book for children which they ever really enjoyed reading.

THE ONE GREAT CHRISTMAS Gift for the Children

The 15 Great Departments, Nature, Science, History, Biography, Astronomy, Physiology, Art, Literature, Poetry, Gardening, Carpentry, and Things to Make and to Do open the doors of knowledge to the child. Here is his natural mental food, not written in long words but in a way that delights the child. We invite every reader of this paper to try the copy on below and send it to us today. We will send you at once a booklet containing complete sections from The Book of Knowledge, fully illustrated so that you may judge it for yourself. But be sure to mail the coupon today.

RAILWAY PEACE SEEN IN INITIAL PAY AGREEMENT

Rock Island Signs Up with Engineers.

Hope that railways of the country will effect advisable adjustment of the wage question involving train service employees gained support last night when it was unofficially reported that the Rock Island has renewed for one year its contract with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

While details were not announced, it is said the rate of pay will remain unchanged.

Talk at Strike Headquarters.

All at once, however, the brotherhoods have demanded wage boosts for their members. These railway chiefs have declared are out of the question. As the time for renewing contracts entered into last year approaches, there has been the usual strike talk in certain quarters.

It is believed that the Rock Island settlement with one of the Big Four brotherhoods is of greater importance than the number of men affected might seem to indicate.

Working rules also have been a matter of the moment, and it has been pointed out that if the railways would make concessions on these, the men would not press their pay demands.

First Meeting Reported.

This report is the first hopeful one that has come from the railway and brotherhoods since the strike started several weeks ago.

While railway officials here have said they believed adjustment probable, some dispatches from New York indicated that negotiations had, in many instances, been abandoned.

From this it has been assumed, despite the fact that the roads upon which no agreement were made, would soon come before the United States railroad labor board.

Then by Day Out.

The United States railway officials here, however, are not satisfied with the general pay but suffered by other rail labor groups July 1, 1922. The brotherhood men were reduced July 1, 1921. At that time they lost half of what they had gained by the increase of May, 1920. They have demanded restoration of the 1920 pay scale.

Banks Must Let Revenue Men See Private Accounts

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 11.—Judge Robert T. Eavin in federal district court here today ruled that a bank must permit internal revenue agents to examine records dealing with private deposits for the purpose of getting information on income taxes.

OBSTACLES FOR TWO

S. J. LEPP.
(Herald Photo.)

GEORGE A. CURRAN.
(Herald Photo.)

EDGAR A. SNOW.

Two of the three new municipal judges appointed by Gov. Len Small yesterday may have a couple of hurdles to jump before they have comfortable seats on the bench.

John J. Lepp and George A. Curran were named as successors to Judges John K. Prindle and Charles A. Williams, both of whom resigned prior to the date of their election to the state bench, thereby creating vacancies having more than a year to run.

The governor's power of appointment extends only to vacancies of less than a year and expires now.

Whether Chief Justice Olsen will re-examine these appointments and whether the city administration will approve pay rolls including the names of these two men.

Edgar A. Snow, a third appointee, has no cloud on his title, since Judge William M. Gemmill, whom he succeeded, dated his resignation in such a way as to bring this appointment within judicial jurisdiction.

Gov. Small also appointed Rudolph Mueh, former alderman of the old Twelfth ward, as a member of the west park board.

LOWDEN CONFERS WITH COOLIDGE IN WHITE HOUSE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—(Herald.)—Politicians from every point of the compass made good the center of the stage at the White House today.

Although this Tuesday was the first of the heralded two days a week upon which nothing but official business would be transacted, the premises in town of the entire Republican committee, coupled with the recent announcement of the President's candidacy, brought about a series of conferences with G. O. P. leaders running throughout the day.

Of foremost interest was a short meeting between President Coolidge and Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, presidential candidate in 1920, and reported to be the dark horse in the coming campaign. At the White House it was said that Lowden had called merely "to pay his respects to the President." It is known, however, that the Illinois leader's presence was requested, and for that reason it was generally believed the conference had more than a little political significance, particularly in view of Lowden's possible candidacy and the growing strength of Miram Johnson in Illinois.

Playing Your Part in Your Community

What will your community be ten, fifteen or twenty years from now? Will it be more prosperous, more beautiful—a more desirable place to live and work in than today? It will, if you play your part.

Look around you. Somewhere you have seen the magic of concrete roads—the tonic effect of concrete streets. Have seen business improved through buildings made fireproof, sanitary and permanent with concrete. Have seen the greater sense of security and pride that comes from concrete schools, churches, theaters and homes.

If you are boosting for similar advantages in your own community—your home town—you are truly playing your part.

Portland Cement Association service helps anyone to play his part well.

It is a free service for the owner, the builder, the architect, the contractor, the engineer—for everyone interested in getting the greatest value from concrete construction.

The cement industry has made this service possible through the Portland Cement Association. It is a service, offered without any obligation.

MOTORISTS KILL 2 AS POLICE PUSH SAFETY CRUSADE

Court Sends Careless Drivers to Cells.

As Chief Collins ordered that police continue failing to arrest motor traffic violators in their precincts would have to explain at his office two more persons were killed by automobiles yesterday. Two others died of injuries previously received. These four deaths brought the total for Cook county to 41 since Jan. 1.

From this morning every police captain will furnish to the chief a complete list showing every arrest for breaking the automobile laws and showing the disposition of cases previously reported. The order is, "You've got to deliver."

No section of the city is aimed at. Chief Collins stated, for the cure of the automobile killer is city-wide.

More Motorcycle Police

Twenty-five new motorcycle policemen were sent into action yesterday, increasing the city force to eighty-five. Motorists have been allowed to break the speed limit as set down in the statutes, but that is over. From now on "twenty miles an hour" does not mean thirty. It means what it says. Also, the police department is to practice what it preaches. Unless on an emergency call, police vehicles will observe the same rules as those driven by civilians.

While the chief was giving orders and the courts punishing violators, an 18 year old man, John J. Carlson of 4281 Grand avenue, a retired fire captain, was killed when he was struck while in front of 4689 North Ashland avenue by an automobile owned by the Toy Tankers company of Evanston and driven by Frank Fischer of 1514 Wilmette avenue, Wilmette.

Truck Driver Arrested

Fischer declared the aged man had stepped from the curb into the path of his car. He was taken into custody by the North Robey street police.

Albert Sink, 8 years old, of 1119 West 15th street, was on his way to school yesterday when he was struck and killed by an automobile driven by John Jachowski of 1227 Hirsch street.

Witnesses said the boy and three companions were playing in the street under the viaduct near Ashland avenue and 18th street. The Sink boy, they said, ran out from behind a pillar in front of Jachowski's car.

Driver of Auto Dies

Peter Girgusa, 36, of 5939 South State street, died at the Washington Park hospital of injuries received Nov. 27, when his car collided with another at South State and 61st streets.

Peter Girvas, 29, of 5923 South State street, died at the Washington Park hospital of injuries received Nov. 12, when his car collided with another at South State and 61st streets.

William Blackwell, 79, of 1598 Larabee street, who was struck by a Yellow Cab on North avenue and the north branch bridge, died from his injuries at St. Mary's hospital.

HANDS OF DEATH

The clock indicates the number of deaths caused by automobiles, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1.

North branch bridge, died from his injuries at St. Mary's hospital.

Struck by Fire Truck.
An aged paper seller, almost an institution at the corner of 63d street and Cottage Grove avenue, was struck by a fire truck last night.

John Wrightman, 82, of 3251 Cottage Grove avenue, who, while driving Ugro Grove avenue, was the man. He stood on the corner for years. He was dead.

Witnesses declared he evidently did not hear engine No. 53 as it sped over the crossing on the way to a fire. He was taken to the Washington Park hospital, where it was said his death was probable.

The heaviest fines in the history of the speeders' courts were imposed yesterday by Judge Walker and Ward in an attempt to do their part in making Chicago safe for the pedestrian and the careful driver.

The dockets surpassed Monday's in length. More than 500 automobile cases were heard by the two judges.

A sentence of a year in the reformatory and a $500 fine was imposed by Judge Walker on Rubin Lyons, 18, of 4831 Kenmore avenue, who, while driving a party of four girls and three men, ran his car on to the sidewalk at Michigan avenue and Garfield boulevard, injuring Mrs. Marie Hildebrand of 4483 South Michigan avenue. Police testified he was driving more than thirty-five miles an hour.

On a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, William Hunsman, 35, of 214 South Oakley boulevard, was sentenced to thirty days in the reformatory and fined $50.

Killed at Michigan City.
Michigan City Ind., Dec. 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Max Farkash of 1317 North Campbell avenue, Chicago, was killed and her husband injured today when their car was struck by a truck. The accident occurred between New Buffalo and Grand Beach, Mich. Albert Adler and another Chicago man, also in the machine, were slightly hurt.

Motor Buses to Run North from Michigan and Ohio

COOLIDGE ON THE BONUS.

President Coolidge says, in effect, that there is no moral reason for the soldiers' bonus. That is what we differ from him. We think there is more moral reason than financial reason for it. Most of the ex-soldiers are getting along financially. But they are not getting along as well as the producers from the war.

For instance, Mr. Gary, in one of the frequent recent speeches, said the bonus was an awful idea. Since Mr. Gary has drawn cards in this game, we suggest that Mr. Quinn of the American Legion "hike" him. Let it be brought before the congress just how much United States Steel made out of the war.

Henry Ford, father of Edsel Ford, said in the Dearborn Independent that it would be a moral error to give the soldiers a bonus. Well, the Legion ought to raise him back again. Let Henry Ford's arguments be gone over and answered in congress. How much did Mr. Ford make out of the war and how much of this sum has he returned to the government? Also, how about Edsel? WHY didn't he go?

We have not heard yet whether Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns are opposed to the bonus. We suppose they are. But they, at least, have the tact to keep their mouths shut on the question. The foregoing paragraphs are merely suggestions. If the American Legion is to succeed in getting a bonus for the veterans it must get off the defensive and assume the aggressive. Battle aren't won by waiting for the other fellow to crack you. You must crack him first and hardest.

If we were not certain that the soldiers were morally entitled to the bonus, we would not be for it. They are entitled to it. They were drafted, disciplined, their lives were risked in a war fought across the ocean. If the soldiers had lost the war, and the country was broken down like Germany, it would be impossible to pay a soldiers' bonus. But the war was won, the country is rich. Are the soldiers to get nothing out of victorious war but a kick in the pants?

That is contrary to nature. Soldiers, in all countries, in all times, are supposed to get more out of victory and less money by defeat than any other class of the population. The American government says to its soldiers, "If you had lost, you'd have lost; but since you won, you lose anyway."

Somewhat of other we think that is an unkind way for a country to talk to its soldiers.

Look at China.

IT CAN BE DONE.

The La Salle Steel company, a large manufacturer of steel in the Chicago district, has announced that it has abandoned the "Pittsburgh Plus" practice of charging Chicago or other western consumers of its product the freight rate from Pittsburgh, even when they back their own trucks up to its plants to take away the steel. The company has seen a great light. It has recognized an economic movement, based on justice, which has been taken up by thirty states, and which has attained the dignity of a crusade. It has gotten on the right side of this issue and cannot fail eventually to profit thereby.

The case is of interest and importance at this time especially because it means a break in the ranks of the enemy on the eve of the final battle in the campaign against "Pittsburgh Plus," which is to be fought before the federal trade commission in Washington beginning this week. It is a long, long fight, but it is an arbitrary law ranging as high as $4.80 a ton upon western consumers of steel products. It proves that "Pittsburgh Plus" can be eliminated. Since it can, it must be. Such discrimination against Chicago and the middle west in favor of Pittsburgh and its neighboring areas will not be tolerated. "Pittsburgh Plus" is on the run. The battle now on in Washington ought to drive it into permanent obsolescence. Probably readers of Tribune editorials will be glad of that. Certainly all persons who realize what a financial burden this practice has been putting upon them directly and indirectly for years will be glad of it.

WHY SOME MEN ARE POOR.

Recent official reports are to the effect that Victory bonds amounting to a total of about $48,000,000, and war savings certificates to a total of $22,000,000 are still outstanding, although they matured and ceased to draw interest many months ago. Even more startling is the statement that $43,000,000 worth of the temporary Liberty bonds, bearing only four coupons, which were given out until permanent bonds could be printed, have never been presented for exchange. In other words, more than $100,000,000 of the most readily convertible securities in the world are lying idle. Some, no doubt, have been accidentally destroyed, or lost, and others have been stolen and are held for fear of disclosure. But probably the bulk of this gift edged security is merely resting in family strong boxes or cupboards. Its owners either do not understand its value, or are too negligent to take care of the matter. The situation sheds a great white light upon the poor people of this country. John D. Rockefeller's Victory bonds are no longer in his vaults.

We can rest assured that J. P. Morgan's first convertibles were converted long ago. The government paper of every rich, or wealthy, or even poor but intelligent bond holder in the country is either still drawing interest or has been cashed in long ago and put to work in some other form. The $100,000,000 of this money cited in the money of the poor. That is one reason why they are poor. Those who hold such securities, which are paying them nothing, are either ignorant or lazy. Those are characteristics which differentiate them clearly from the money makers. The proof is final in the fact that they cannot allow $100,000,000 to lie idle when they might be collecting interest or dividends on it.

AS ONE SARDINE TO ANOTHER.

We again invite the people of Chicago to regard with interest the condition into which they are about to be precipitated. In a few days they will be carping, taxicabs, or their own automobiles, and they will go to the shops. They will crowd into the business districts and they will tell themselves into knots which will be remarkable.

They will have their shows in each other's eyes and their heels on each other's toes. They will be jammed between corner turning street cars. They will be climbing over stalled cars. Overcrowded traffic cops will blow meaningless whistles. Home will be a hundred miles away. They will know that Mathews was right and that he had Chicago in mind. They have contrived a system to prove that the human race would increase beyond its capacity to take care of itself. We have beaten the Chinese at it by the simple process of designing a town for three story buildings and horse cars, by looping all traffic in the area of greatest congestion, and then building twenty story buildings and refusing to build any more. The abnormal of this month will be the normal of every month in a few years. See how you like it.

As one sardine might say to another: "At least it's not Chicago."

ONE GOOD REASON.

Chicago lost the Republican national convention to Cleveland, and if the Republican national committee wishes to explain that the state which has been small governor as a Republican was not an appropriate candidate for the nomination of a Republican candidate for President a great many people in the state would understand the reason and concede its validity.

A BLOCK IN THE SENATE;
WHAT OF IT?

A Washington dispatch announces that Republican insurgents in the senate have succeeded in creating a deadlock in the election of a chairman of the interstate commerce committee, which has to do with all railroad legislation. As in the case of the recent deadlock in the organization of the house due to the stand of similar insurgents, we felt justified in asking, what of it?

The citizens of this country who send representatives to congress should understand and appreciate the situation. Public business is being held up by a small minority which cannot agree either with the regular Republicans or the Democrats in congress. In the circumstances the blame for any lack of action rests quite clearly with this minority. Neither the regular Republican nor the regular Democratic organization has anything to apologize for, and certainly neither ought to allow itself to be coerced into action which its party or its principles do not approve. Any fault lies with the minority, which can muster only seven votes out of the entire membership of the senate.

If that is made clear, the citizens who elect the United States senate will know what to do about it when the next senatorial elections come around. And in the meantime, if the insurgent bloc continues to block organization of the commerce committee, and as a result no railroad legislation is put through at this session of congress, no harm will be done. On the contrary, the Ex-Communist railroad act will be given a reasonable opportunity to show its value, or lack of value—an opportunity which it has not yet had.

If the senate is wise it will accept the situation calmly, place the responsibility where it belongs, and go about such business as is not hampered by the radical minority of seven.

Editorial of the Day

GOOD-BYE, CIVIL RIGHTS
[Knowlton (Twin) News.]

Having found that old and established legal methods are somewhat slow and cumbersome in disposing of prohibition cases—due to the fact that they permit the defendant certain privileges and protections such as indictment by a grand jury, being proven guilty beyond reasonable doubt, and trial by twelve of his peers, a new policy of enforcing the prohibition law by injunction has recently been officially recommended.

Defendants can now be put under injunction not to violate the prohibition law. "Then," if further violation is charged, they can be brought into court through an affidavit or information filed with the judge, and can be sentenced for contempt of court. Now the inevitable has happened—the thing that always happens in such cases. Having found how well this system works, the judges are extending it a bit further.

Heretofore liquor injunctions, made possible under the "padding" provisions of the Volstead act, have been issued against property. That is, an injunction was issued against sale or possession of liquor in a certain house or club or building.

Federal Judge Henry D. Clayton of Montgomery, Ala., has just put the "padding" power to a new use. He enjoined nineteen individuals from violating the prohibition law. Then he warned them that if they were caught breaking the prohibition law anywhere in his district during the next twelve months he would jail them for contempt of court.

The new departure in this case was that the injunctions were directed against individuals, not property. Technically, individuals would be jailed for contempt of court; actually they would be jailed for violating the prohibition law, a criminal offense, but apparently a crime not subject to criminal court procedure.

If a judge can enjoin nineteen defendants from violating the prohibition law, can he not also enjoin all the residents of his district? Then, if this very thing could be done, every prohibition defendant brought before him would be contempt procedure?

Also, if the prohibition law can be enforced in this way, then why not other laws? Why not enjoin folks against the breaking of other statutes, and then try them all without trial for contempt? And where would your much vaunted legal rights be then?

This paper believes in enforcement of the prohibition law, but not at the expense of guarantees on which our entire system of freedom and democracy is built.

THE WILD DUCK DINNER

I ate a wild duck dinner.
It almost makes me cry.
To hear the whisper 'round the board,
"Oh gosh! this bird is high."

I do not know what wild ducks eat.
I think I'd drug store bones.
And eels, tin cans, and old swamp grass,
And rubber boots and shoes.

And when I finally take a bite,
I always wish I'd not.
I hate to have my mouth all full
Of No. 6 round shot.

I write these words because, tonight—
Oh, this is hard to tell—
There is a wild duck dinner,
And I am S. O. L.

The Union League, Aurora.
Of all clubs far the best.
Has made me proud and happy—
It's named me honor guest.

But Mister Chairman—gentlemen—
Your speaker humbly begs,
You'll eat his share of those wild ducks
And give him ham and eggs.

"THANK YOU FOR COOLIDGE—HE KEPT
"We put aside the contribution from Com. D. right there. We were just so sure that he was going to say that Cal had kept us out of something

Com. D. "Did you find in his message any equivoca-

Who is going to be the greatest President since Lincoln? Ans.—Calvin Coolidge! We've been

LEAD POISONING.
ANYONE who observes a few precautions are not in great danger from lead poisoning. Practically no lead is absorbed through the skin. Therefore, paint on the skin is not a direct cause of lead poisoning.
But paint on the skin of the hands and under the finger nails is very apt to be carried into the mouth, and in that way, to cause lead poisoning. The prevention of this is to wash the hands and clean the nails before handling anything which is later to be put into the mouth. Eating can be made safe by adjoining to some room away from the work and cleaning the hands before beginning the meal.

Smoking cigars, cigarettes, or even a pipe and chewing tobacco or gum can scarcely be made safe by any practicable precautions, save handling the tobacco or the gum in bits of all that may be done. Almost all the poisoning results from the inhalation or swallowing of lead.

Far the most dangerous work the painter does is sandpapering old paint in preparation for the new. A lot of dry rubbing dust is caused, a kind of dust and some of this gets into the nose and mouth.

Painters should wear overalls and these should be washed once a week. The habit of shaking the overalls before putting them on is a dangerous one.
The painter inhales the lead dust which he shakes out of his overalls.

The painter should never go to work without his breakfast. To do so greatly increases the danger of lead poisoning.

The first symptoms of lead poisoning are constipation and colic. It is unwise to let any case of lead poisoning go on to the stage of wrist drop or any other form of paralysis before recognizing the danger. "Dieting" will generally overcome constipation and, in that way, help to postpone or to lessen the effects of the lead, but the important point is that constipation be recognized as a first warning of lead poisoning.

The turpentine used in mixing paints causes headaches. The fundamental difference between the effects of turpentine and those of lead is that turpentine acts quickly, while lead acts slowly.
The turpentine headache comes quickly and is generally quickly cured by a change of fresh air. The lead paralysis.

me if plain soda crackers or toasted

Mrs. C. A. J. writes: I am five months any way?

been there two years and I have not seen him at Christmas, but there is no way

THE BARRIER OF FOREIGN NAMES TO AMERICANIZATION.
Chicago, Dec. 6.—I have just clipped from another paper the editorial of THE Tribune of recent date, insisting on Americanization of the foreign element of the United States. What you say of the efforts of foreign governments to maintain ascendancy over the opinions and acts of their former subjects in this country is apparent to every one. There is a constant propaganda both in the U. S. and outside of it directed towards this end. A certain class of politicians encourage the foreign ascendancy by every possible means, as it is their very bread and butter. The true interests of America in having a united people under one government and one flag are practically betrayed.

Foreign financial institutions are now loaning money at low rates of interest to former residents of foreign countries in order to set them up in business. Experts show the foreigner how to handle the retail American trade and they are to be made the "employers of Americans."
The real American, even the soldier, is not given a chance to get into business.

Here is the only remedy I know to break down this barrier to complete Americanization: Change the names of all foreigners to harmonize with our language.

A man is branded with his name. If it is such as Papyloski, Schlippenbach, Pappadopolis, or similar foreign brand,
he naturally poses as a Pole, a German, or a Greek. Even the children of such parents born in the United States cannot free themselves from the badge of foreign allegiance as long as they retain their old names. They herd as foreigners, vote as foreigners, and talk as foreigners. In my opinion they never become 100 per cent Americans and never can until they drop their foreign names for American names that harmonize with our language.

AMERICA FIRST.
Columbus, O., Dec. 5.—Much of the material composing party platforms is made up of the ingredients known in street colloquy as apple sauce. The league of nations, the proposal for a world court and prohibition are stirring instances of the patness of this slang phrases. Logical, concerted action by voters becomes a problem of real difficulty.

A political party has certain principles inherent in its school of thought. Any party declaration dictated by expediency or the exigencies of a political situation phrases for indiscriminate baiting.

The Republican party may be, as its leaders proudly aver, the party of Lincoln; it may be the party of the protective principle in tariff, but it is not the party of prohibition, except in the fact.

Whimsical Walker never appropriated the apple sauce barfardedly nor was more of an air.

I would recommend that all names which are not distinctly party propaganda and are known they are not placed upon the ballot in this manner of a resolution, to take issue with the name.

Yes? No?
Participation in the world court.
Yes? No?
Modification of the Volstead act.
Yes? No?

A cross after the affirmative or negative would signify the voter's de-

1923 COCKTAIL DRIVING GOTHAM TO HARD LIKKER

Melancholy, Ill-Smelling, and 80c a Throw.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
New York, Dec. 11.—(Special.)—One of the saddest of sights in gay Gotham is a Manhattan cocktail, 1923 stream line model, strutting its native beauty. Up and down the white way, the cabaret press upon visitors the merits of the synthetic mixed drink, with the whippersnapper guarantee that it is "almost" the same as the old fashioned Bronx, Manhattan, or Martini of our forefathers.

The "almost" is the common for a nauseating drink, a melancholy, depressing drink that smells like the back room of an apothecary's shop. If a doctor ever prescribed so bitter a medicine the patient would think himself out of luck. It costs 40 to 50 cents a throw.

To keep the law somewhat in countenance the tango halls say it is a temperance drink. And in a way they are right, for two of these cocktails would make almost any drinker feel like joining the Anti-Saloon league. A prominent bootlegger decanted on this a night or two ago in one of the gilded halls.

"The saddest epitaph on the tombstone of Bacchus," he said, "is that the very Martini, the Manhattan, and the Bronx, which a few years ago were the instruments of conviviality, have now become the agents of sobriety. What a fall! Synthetic stuff has done it. The cocktail as now served on Broadway discourages drinking. No wonder the flappers and their mamma and papas are going in for hard liquor straight. It's safety first."

Throughout New York, as in Chicago and the wide open spaces where thrills are thrills, the battle is raging with increasing fervor between the fundamentalists, who hold to old-fashioned orthodox Scotch, gin, and bourbon, and the synthetists, who prefer something avowed out of bottles of chemicals and essences.

European Goods Made in New York.

In Chicago, Detroit, and other centers there has been a notable growth in the number of family synthetists who mix their own stuff at the family hearth, but even among these many seize an opportunity when offered to buy authentic European manufactured goods made in New York and sold under counterfeited labels.

An appalling proportion of this stuff, so the chemical laboratories of the enforcement bureau show, contains poisons of various sorts and strengths.

Medical authorities say that, theoretically, synthetic gin, if made from pure grain alcohol and pure essences, is as good or no worse than proper gin, most of which was synthetic, anyway.

But in more than 80 per cent of the specimens of synthetic beverages analyzed the chemists have found the maker had used a redistillation of denatured alcohol. The redistillation had not removed some of the denaturants, so that the basis of the beverage contained poison. In addition, some of the aromatic essences were found to be impure and to hold deleterious elements.

In one string of gin specimens which represented about 14,000 quart bottles the chemists found that the juniper extract contained injurious adulterants. It had been bought at a by-night incident shop instead of at a reputable wholesale drug store.

Many of the dealcoholized vermouths and cordials which are being sold openly have likewise been found laced with poisons, and as to the stuff that goes into home brew, the city laboratory at Chicago long ago found some samples of hops to contain arsenic.

Here in New York the synthetic stuffs are held in worse favor than moor itself because the worse drinker is generally suspicious of hooch but takes more for granted when the gin bottle is produced. It has come to such a pass that some bootleggers who specialize on the high priced trade have stopped handling gin and cordials and have concentrated on Scotch.

But the real stuff is easy enough to get in New York if the seeker is diligent enough. It is being continually smuggled in one way or another and in the little family restaurants, Italian, French, Hungarian, Greek, and the rest, the diner who looks regular has no trouble in getting white and cordials that even to practiced palates seem genuine.

And as for beer, it seems more difficult to get near here in New York than real beer. Likewise ale, large quantities of which have been smuggled in from Canada and Britain in the last few weeks.

Just for curiosity two strangers strolled around the other night in a casual sort of way, and this is what they encountered in one evening:

Real beer at a dime the glass in an open saloon, bottled ale at a cabaret, other diners getting Scotch and Bourbon openly. In an office while waiting for a friend, a secretary came into the antechamber with Scotch ministrations, and next in a cabaret a pint of fifteen year old Bourbon was circulated, a bottle of authentic champagne was cracked by the house, and a celebrity came in with a quart of abstinence just off the boat.

THREEFOLD PRIZE FOR THE BEST. Harry Davis, who did the drinking, and Harry Smokey, who did the looking, according to police charges, were fined $50 and costs each for picking pockets yesterday.

COLORED SOCIETY PAYS RESPECTS TO BRIDAL PAIR

Before she came to Chicago to live, Mrs. Max Walker Robinson Jackson resided in Irvington-on-the-Hudson in the $150,000 country home, built with part of the fortune brought in by the hair restorer of her famous grandmother, Mrs. Walker.

But it was as the beautiful home-loving wife of Dr. Gordon H. Jackson, one of Chicago's best known colored doctors, that the "million-dollar bride" entertained in the modest five room flat at 4545 Calumet avenue yesterday.

Everybody who pretends to be anybody in colored society came to pay their respects, to congratulate the bridegroom, and to cast an eager eye about for the thousands of dollars' worth of presents which made a sensation at the wedding in the east a month ago, when $30,000 was said to have been spent for the entertainment of the 9,000 guests who were invited.

But the presents were not yet on view. Because of their condition, Mrs. Jackson explained, they had been held in Irvington to be wrapped for shipping by special packers.

The callers were forced to content themselves with viewing the bride's gown of sage green, her carved ivory bracelet, her diamond and pearl drop earrings, the diamond and platinum engagement ring, and the string of real pearls about her neck.

In between her social duties, the new wife is going to do the cooking for two. She may wear pearls, but the shining pins and pans in the compactly fitted kitchen interest her right now. Before her marriage, she says, she took a course in domestic science "so as to be ready."

"I'm going downtown to buy a Boston cook book tomorrow," she admits. "The doctor says such a lot, and I've got to be all the better cook on that account. At least I can make coffee in a patent percolator. I've got to keep house well, for all the doctor's friends will be coming in to see what sort of a person I am."

Silk scrap baskets, 3.75

Harking back to picturesque days of brocaded "tapestry rooms," it's no effort at all for silk waste baskets to bridge the gap between the useful and the purely decorative. They're made of brocaded satin, trimmed with gold tinsel braid and wee braid handles. Rose, blue, orchid.

Dainty boxes for dressing table accessories, 3.75

They are satin brocade to start with—and touches of lace and French rosebud trimming make them unusually individual boxes for gloves, handkerchiefs, powder, comb and brush. Special values at each 3.75.

Comb sets, gold lace covered, 2.95
They are daintily trimmed with rosebuds and lace. Also hair brushes at 2.95. Effective gifts.

Here is one Christmas gift that will make its recipient eternally grateful for your thoughtfulness—the

Health-o-Meter

Automatic Bathroom Scale

The need for a Health-o-Meter in every home is obvious. Take yourself for example. If you would enjoy the best of health with the vim, vigor and vitality that should be yours, then watch your weight, say leading health authorities. If you are gaining or losing weight—there is a definite reason. Perhaps you are now taking health treatments, exercises or diets to improve your health, physical appearance and beauty. But without a Health-o-Meter to guide you, you are working in the dark. The Health-o-Meter will serve you instantly, accurately and economically. Simply step on and read the easy-to-see dial. Thousands in successful use. A beautiful addition to any bathroom—neat, compact and inviting.

The Gift Distinctive
The Health-o-Meter is an unusual gift—there is nothing like it. Its high worth is apparent in its compact, sturdy and beautiful appearance, plus its accuracy and utility that make its daily use both a duty and a pleasure. Make a Health-o-Meter your preferred Christmas Gift.

BOOZE, BOUDOIR HUSBAND'S LIFE WIFE DECLARE

Then His Counsel As
"Same for You?"

(Pictures on back page.)

Nasty parties where liquor freely flowed—parties where only one present—were described yesterday by Mrs. Meta Murphy, who James H. "Bole-Royce" Murphy, seeking a divorce in Judge Joseph Smith's court.

Mrs. Murphy testified as to her husband's parties. She slipped in the night of Miss Ruth Terrell as Murphy's companion one night at his own apartment. This evidence was in reply to questions by Mrs. Murphy's counsel, Charles E. Bristan.

Less Swift in Reply.

But not so swiftly nor so earnestly as Mrs. Murphy, in response to Murphy's oft repeated query, "Was it with you at that party?" Mrs. Murphy replied: "O, come friends, yes, Mr. Robert Maypole."

Once Leslie Whipp, Murphy's counsel, suddenly asked: "Have you kissed Mr. Robert Maypole?"

"Of course," Mrs. Murphy replied. She refused to number these kisses.

BALDWIN STAYS IN POWER; BALKS LABOR CABINET

British King Planned to Call MacDonald.

BY JOHN STEELE
Chicago Tribune Feature News Service.
Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.
LONDON, Dec. 11.—(Tribune Radio.)—Stanley Baldwin decided today to remain as prime minister until parliament meets on Jan. 2. That he will be turned out then by an adverse vote of the house of commons is beyond doubt, and it is possible that some members of his own party may join in opposition to him.
It is also practically certain that the new government will be Labor and that it will have the support of the Liberals for noncontingent legislation. Mr. Baldwin is able to reveal a little of the secret history leading to his resignation. When the prime minister went to see King George yesterday he disclosed that he planned to resign in favor of some other Conservative or some group composed of members of the two "constitutional" parties. The king promptly told him that if Mr. Baldwin resigned he would send for Ramsay MacDonald and ask him to form a government.

King Warned Not to Discriminate.
King George, in taking this line, acted on advice, both legal and political, from trusted friends, who informed him that it was the only constitutional course, and that it would be fatal for the crown to give the slightest basis for an allegation that it was willing to discriminate against any party in the state.
It is also reported that the king expressed his personal contempt for the needless fear of a revolution which is held by some Tories in case of the advent of the Labor party to power. What this means is that the crown, as has done more than once before in English history, stepped in as the protector of the constitution against a party which would subordinate it to class interests.
The cabinet met for two hours today and Mr. Baldwin explained the situation. It is said that he received promises of support from all his ministers. It is stated that he will justify his position as an official on a constitutional ground, holding that parliament and not the voters creates the government, and that parliament has the right to dismiss it.
All politicians agree that this move gives a great tactical advantage to the Labor party. It will fall to the lot of Mr. MacDonald, the leader of the opposition, to propose an amended address to the throne and he will have no difficulty in framing a resolution which must command the support of the Liberals as well as the Laborites and perhaps some of the Conservatives. This will mean an overwhelming defeat for the government, and an immediate resignation, and King George will then be compelled by constitutional usage to send for Mr. MacDonald, who will be in a better position to form a government than he is now, immediately after an election.

$10,000 ASKED BY SINGER FOR VOCAL INJURY

Cyrena Van Gordon's voice, the lilt that has made her a leading prima donna with the Civic Opera company, today will entertain a jury in Superior Judge Hugo Pam's court.
But words, not song, are to charm the jury. For they are asked to award $10,000 to Miss Van Gordon, who brought suit as Mrs. S. B. Munna, wife of the surgeon, as a result of an accident, which the plaintiff says injured her vocal cords.
A street car which struck the automobile in which Miss Van Gordon, as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Thomas, was riding is the cause of the suit, which is directed against the Chicago Surface Lines. The accident occurred Aug. 26, 1921, at Michigan avenue and 214 street.
The jury was selected yesterday and heard a few witnesses. Tractor attorneys hinted that a convoluted dinner party preceded the accident.

JUDGE HOLDS UP MOVE TO HALT ZONING RULING

Judge Hugo M. Friend yesterday denied the demand of Thomas Walsh, labor leader, to restrain police from interfering with the erection of a flat building at 6519 North Maplewood avenue.
The district where Walsh sought to build is zoned under the zoning ordinance for one-story dwellings. He obtained a permit when the zoning board of appeals was told most of the buildings in the district were flat buildings. The appeal board later was notified that only bungalows were built on Maplewood avenue and revoked the permit. Walsh, contending the last move was unlawful, appealed to the courts.

Stipulates Funeral Cost, Then Commits Suicide

Leaving a note in which he stipulated that his funeral should not cost over $150—"I am, if possible," Charles A. Beaumont, 58 years old, committed suicide yesterday in his room in the Worthington hotel, 747 North Clark street, by drinking poison.

Errs in Choosing Police Chief's Home to Pillar

Harry Stein of 4007 Montrose avenue, 15 year old delivery boy for a State street store, did not know that the milk bottle containing $10.00 was on the porch of William's police chief, William Peterson. He was arrested soon after taking the money. Mrs. Peterson said she would not prosecute if Harry's parents would send him back to school.

TWO BIG BANK MERGERS INVOLVE $110,000,000

One Affects Loop and the Other Stockyards.

BY O. A. MATHER.

More than $110,000,000 of Chicago's banking resources are represented in two big bank consolidations announced yesterday. There will be two separate mergers involving four well known banks.

The directors of the National Bank of the Republic and the National City bank yesterday approved plans for consolidation which will rank fifth among Chicago's financial institutions. The combined banks will retain the name National Bank of the Republic, and consolidation will be effective when permission is taken of the present City Exchange bank building at La Salle and Adams street. The building recently was purchased following liquidation of the defunct Fort Dearborn bank.

To Have $65,000,000 Assets.

This combination will have total assets of about $65,000,000. Capital will be $4,000,000; surplus and undivided profits, $2,000,000; deposits, about $79,000,000. Stockholders of the individual banks will receive an equal number of shares in the combined institution, as well as special cash dividends resulting from capital adjustment.

John A. Lynch will be chairman of the new institution; David H. Morgan and George Woodruff will be vice chairmen, and Hugo E. Otto will be president. All of the present directors of the individual banks will be retained. The rank and duties of all other officers of both banks will be decided by a joint committee. Meetings of the stockholders of both banks will be held in thirty days to ratify the consolidation.

Yards District Affected.

The other consolidation will involve the Live Stock Exchange National and the Stock Yards Savings bank. This will represent a union of more than $25,000,000 in banking resources. While final details have not been worked out yet, the consolidation virtually is assured.

Stockholders of the Live Stock Exchange National bank have been informed that it is proposed to create a new institution, the Stock Yards National bank, with capital of $1,500,000 and surplus of $610,000, which, combined with capital of $1,000,000 and surplus of $1,355,000 of the old bank. Then it is intended to form another new bank, the Stock Yards Trust and Savings, to take over the Stock Yards Savings bank, which has capital of $250,000 and surplus of $502,000.

58 LB. GOBBLER LEADS STAMPEDE IN BOUL MICH

Judging of poultry and pets started yesterday morning at the Coliseum poultry show, where more than 4,000 fowl and 200 pets are being exhibited this week.

The chief feature was a surprise turkey roundup, led by Copper King, a bronze gobbler weighing fifty-eight pounds, that brought traffic to a standstill on Michigan avenue. The excitement of the city started Copper King on a stampede soon after he had arrived from J. D. Vachey, Ranch in Montana, and was installed in his cage at the show.

Geese that weighed twenty-five pounds and rabbits that weigh twenty pounds are among the exhibits.

ITALY EXPENDS $138,000,000 ON HUGE SKY FLEET

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] ROME, Dec. 11.—[Tribune Radio.]—Premier Mussolini is now rushing through a big aerial program, which will give Italy sixty-six squadrons, or 1,600 military airplanes at the end of this coming June.

"You see 300 planes flying over Rome today, but you will see more than three times that number over the Eternal city this time next year," Premier Mussolini said in October upon the anniversary of the Fascist entry, and he is going to more than make good his promise.

Italy is spending $138,000,000 this current fiscal year upon its air, naval, and military forces. Because of the huge French air fleet which might support Jugoslavians or Greeks some time in the future the government feels obliged to spend a considerable part in creating a big air fleet.

Of 1,600 planes in the hands of the Italian army at the end of June 1,200 will be in active service and the remainder in depots.

Now Fred Has Ridden in Everything, Most Likely

Fred Faulkner maintained he had been insulted when the clerk at the Great Northern hotel told him he was behind in room rent. Then the house detective arrived, saw a protruding revolver butt, and called the police. Faulkner struggled with the officers.

"I've rode in everything but a patrol wagon, and I'm not going to begin now," he shouted.

He arrived at the Central station without walking, however.

PASTOR RECITES NEW VERSION OF VANISHING ACT

A story entirely at variance with that of the investigators for the Zurich Insurance company of Chicago, who found him alive on a farm near Ypsilanti, Mich., after he was supposed to have been killed in an automobile accident in Colorado, was told last night by Walter R. Loupe, so-called "second husband."

At the detective bureau where he was held overnight pending his departure today for Denver to face embezzlement charges, Loupe insisted his disappearance was due entirely to loss of memory suffered in the automobile accident and denied emphatically that he had conspired with his wife to collect $25,000 insurance or that he had eloped with a blonde, bobbed hair Colorado school teacher.

Formerly Pastor Here.

Investigators who trailed and found Loupe after a six weeks' search summed their version thus:

Loupe, a former pastor of a church in Englewood, a suburb of Denver, disappeared on Oct. 22, leaving a shortage of between $2,000 and $4,000 in his accounts as western Colorado manager for the Farmers' Life Insurance company. His car containing an old grip in which his clothes were packed was found in the Colorado river near Glenwood Springs. It had plunged over a cliff. Mrs. Loupe, mother of six children—the oldest 11 years and the youngest 6 weeks—claimed her husband was dead and attempted to collect the insurance.

Refuge in Farm.

The $42,000 policy in the Farmers' company had been reassigned to the Zurich company and the latter refused to pay. Investigators learned Loupe had purchased a new suit case shortly before his disappearance, that he had an affair with the school teacher, and that she was corresponding with a man named Jack Joyce on the farm near Ypsilanti. They went to Ypsilanti and found Loupe.

"All I want is a chance to get back home and straighten out all these wild stories," said the former minister. "I have been a victim of amnesia. When my car went over the cliff, I was plunged of about twenty-five feet. I was stunned and did not recover for some time. All my friends knew I was an expert swimmer, so I don't see why they should have thought I'd be drowned in the river."

"I remember picking myself up, wet and cold, and starting home on foot. After that I remembered nothing of my former life until a few days before the investigators found me."

"I recovered my memory just a few days ago and wrote to a friend. It was through this letter they traced me. I am not $25,000 short in my accounts."

WILLIAM BOYD, BATTLING ACTOR, GETS FINE OF $50

William Boyd, juvenile lead with "The Children of the Moon" company, was fined $50 and costs in the South Clark street court yesterday on a charge of assault and battery brought by Grover D. Edwards, secretary and treasurer of the Congress hotel.

Edwards testified that his attention was attracted Monday night by the screams of a young woman in the hotel. He rushed to "the actress" room and found Boyd. When he asked the actor his business in the girl's apartment, the leading juvenile, according to Edwards, regarded it as a cue to say:

"What business is that of yours? If you've got any of your own, mind it." Then he followed his line with a few gestures and knocked down the hotel man, Edwards declared. A charge of disorderly conduct against Boyd was dropped for want of prosecution. The "actress" name not revealed, was not in court.

SEES MILITARISM AT HIGHER PEAK THAN DURING 1913

"Today the powers of Europe have more soldiers than they had in 1913—what does it mean?" asked Albert D. Alcorn, national commander of the United Spanish War veterans, of the 466 persons who attended a banquet given in his honor at the Hotel La Salle last night.

"We thought that the armistice of 1918 was going to end all wars—look at the situation now. Why, who can tell when the next war will break?" The banquet commemorated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the signing of the peace treaty between the United States and Spain. War songs that were popular in '94 were cheered.

HOFFMAN FINDS BOLTED DOORS IN ROADHOUSE RAID

Most Places Prepared for Visitation.

The sheriff's office continued its efforts to get in the good graces of the Better Government association, which breathed capital threats of imprisonment if county taverns were not cleaned up by visiting various roadhouses. Blue Island and Forest Park last night. Burr Oaks inn, the establishment which was once owned by "Mike" Heltzer, whose bones mysteriously are responsible for his present incarceration in Leavenworth, was raided about 10 o'clock by Deputy Sheriff O. Gnewuch. Several patrons were sitting about the ballroom, but no arrests were made.

Final Places Followed.
After obtaining samples of the wine being sold for beer the sheriff's men called at eight other places in Blue Island. Their proprietors had taken warning from the raid conducted yesterday morning upon Brynmor inn, however, and all doors were padlocked.

"Can't do any business here," sighs Gnewuch, and the deputies' machines were turned north toward Forest Park. They found the drinking outlook equally lively there.

Last night's visit was made upon places where, according to the Blue Island L. Williams of the Better Government association, liquor is being sold. Sheriff Hoffman, against whom the organization's impeachment movement was made, suggested yesterday that some of its members might accompany his men on their raids. No accepted the invitation.

Detectives Raid Road.
Detectives from the state's attorney's office dropped in at Brynmor inn, well known resort at Burnham, for a few minutes during the day. Sergeant William Busch arrested Harry Bernstein and six women, who were charged with being inmates of a disorderly house.

Henry Zeutzel, whose roadhouse west of Wilmette was raided three weeks ago, was fined $100 last night for violating the prohibition law.

HOFFMAN FINDS BOLTED DOORS IN ROADHOUSE RAIDS

Most Places Prepared for Visitations.

The sheriff's office continued its efforts to get in the good graces of the latter Government association, which issued casual threats of imprisonment if county towns were not dried up by visiting various roadhouses in the island and Forest Park last night. Sheriff Hoffman, whose headquarters were once owned by "Mike de Pina" Heiler, whose booze maneuvers are responsible for his present incarceration in Leavenworth, was raised about 10 o'clock by Deputy Sheriff Otto Geyewich. Several patrons were sitting about the hall, but no arrests were made.

Find Places Filled.

After obtaining samples of the stuff being sold for beer the sheriff's men called at eight other places in the island. Their proprietors had taken warning from the raid conducted early yesterday morning upon Evergreen inn, however, and all doors were padlocked.

"Can't do any business here," alerted Geyewich, and the deputies' machines were turned north toward Forest Park. They found the drinking outlook equally lively there.

Last night's visits were made upon places where, according to the Rev. E. L. Williams of the Better Government association, liquor is being sold. Sheriff Hoffman, against whom the organization's impediment inroads was made, suggested yesterday that some of its members might accompany his men on their raids. None accepted the invitation.

Detectives Raid Resort.

Detectives from the state's attorney's office dropped in at the Speedway inn, well known resort at Burnham, for a few minutes during the day. Sgt. William Bush arrested Harry Bernstein and six women, who were charged with being inmates of a disorderly house.

Harry Kautschel, whose roadhouse west of Wilmette was raided three weeks ago, was fined $100 last night for violating the prohibition law.

WATCH OUT FOR BAD BOOZE AND PROHIBITION AGENTS

Warnings to those who would serve the holiday spirit with "hip liquor" were issued yesterday by Major Percy Owen, prohibition director for Illinois. Two warnings guaranteed to preserve life and liberty were:

"Watch out for poison booze." "The liquor being shipped to Chicago for the holiday trade is dangerous," the major said. "Forty cases labeled as Scotch recently arrived proved to be linseed oil." On orders from Washington down state agents will be brought to Chicago and organized into automobile squads. They will visit hotels, cafes and restaurants.

FOUR ACCUSED OF MOVIE SWINDLE CRY "FRAMEUP"

"It's all a frameup. We cannot win and they're sure."

This is the counter charge made yesterday by four officials of the Popular Motion Picture Products company when arraigned in South Clark street court on warrants signed by Herbert Horkenhagen, 5515 South Marshfield avenue, who says the four promised to make him a movie celebrity in three weeks for a $50 fee.

Those held are L. F. Callahan, president; H. Black, W. B. Bower, and J. P. Little. A fifth man, said to be "Chuck" Tennis, former pugilist, also is under charge.

"We recently discharged our chief scenario writer and director for inefficiency," said Callahan. "No doubt these two perjured Horkenhagen to sign the warrants. We are running a reputable business."

Nevertheless, the defendants evinced a decided aversion to newspaper photographers. They begged the court to adjourn to chambers, but the request was refused.

The presiding in the rear of the courtroom of a bustling levy of would-be Mary Pickfords and Colleen Moores, hopeful "studios" at the concern, appeared also to cause considerable nervousness to the prisoners.

Myriads of reporters and men and women of all ages were lined to the "studio" at 742 South Michigan avenue through skillfully worded, want ads, it is said. The "racket" was further substantiated, it is charged, by whispered intimations that "Muriel McCormick has just signed up with us, too."

Wylliffe A. Hill, scenario writer, and Mel S. DeForest, a director, say they left the firm when convinced "all was not well." Action was continued by the court to Dec. 31.

SCANDAL TRIAL DELAYED.

The case of Nathan Rosenberg, 3425 Lexington avenue, and Elmer Bear, 6435 North Maple street, who were held last night for appearing in costly attire in a factory at 50 West Quincy street, was continued until Dec. 31.

MR. GEST INCURS INTERNATIONAL STAGE IMBROGLIO

Clash of Titled Stars for Madonna Role.

New York, Dec. 11.—A clash between two titled stars of the stage which will surprise in magnitude the famous Mary Garden-Lina Cavalieri controversy of twenty years ago was predicted on Broadway tonight with the arrival of Princess Norina Marchese of Italy to claim the role of Madonna in "The Miracle," for which Mrs. Duff Cooper, the former Lady Diana Manners, already is rehearsing.

"Of course I shall play the Madonna on the opening night," said the princess with determination, "and at all the regular performances. I was engaged by Max Reinhardt, for whom I created the role when 'The Miracle' was first staged in London in 1913. Mr. Reinhardt implored me to come to New York for the revival. Here I am."

"It's Fate," Princess Says.

"I shall play nothing but the Madonna. I have the greatest admiration for Lady Diana, but the role of Madonna was created for me and God inspired me to interpret it. It is my life. Without me 'The Miracle' would fall. It is fate."

But Morris Gest, who is financing the revival of "The Miracle" in New York, declared he had engaged Lady Diana for the role and meant to keep her.

He was at the pier to greet the princess and to forgive and forget the unpleasant things he said she had permitted Paris papers to print about him. The Italian beauty did not see him, however.

Recently Mary Garden came. Morris Gest was at the pier, too.

she accused Mr. Gest thus: "Well, Morris, I see they've got you in the same fix you were in with me long ago."

And Mary laughed. She referred to the time when both she and Lina Cavalieri had been engaged to sing the title role in "Thais" at the old Manhattan opera house.

"Mary won, of course," said Gest today. "She got the role after we spent considerable time in soothing Cavalieri's ruffled artistic temperament."

Princess Marchese, whose husband is Italian minister to Georgia in the Caucasus, is considered one of the most beautiful titled women in Europe.

Lady Diana Rehearsing.

While the princess was at her hotel, preparing for an interview with Reinhardt, who is staging "The Miracle" here for Gest, Lady Diana was playing the Madonna at an afternoon rehearsal of "The Miracle."

"But we'll fix it up," said Gest. "Perhaps we'll get them to alternate nights in the role. But the big question is—whose going to be Madonna on the opening night?"

"The Miracle" is to be presented only in New York city.

The New Wilson Avenue Station

AFTER months of preparation, the new Wilson Avenue station of the North Shore and Elevated Lines is now completed. A magnificent, modern, block-long building that marks a milestone in the progress of the far famed Wilson Avenue District. As worthy of enterprising Wilson Avenue as Wilson Avenue is worthy of it. Equipped with every comfort and convenience for the accommodation of the particular residents of this section—rest rooms, barber shops, excellent restaurant, smoking rooms, telephone and telegraph service, etc.

Formal Opening Tonight

Interesting ceremonies will mark the formal opening of this new station, this evening, December 12. Make sure to be there. The Uptown Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the Elevated Railroads and the North Shore Line to celebrate the occasion.

Free Music — Free Dancing — Free Refreshments
8:30 P. M. Until 12:00 Midnight

Gala street parade! Brilliant street decorations and fireworks! Entertaining short talks by prominent speakers! Stirring music by the Great Lakes "Jackie" Band!

Cheery Yuletide decorations everywhere. Benson's Famous Orchestra playing catchy dance music. An abundance of good refreshments for everybody insures a pleasant evening.

For Travelers on the Elevated and North Shore Lines

Elevated patrons, whether traveling uptown or downtown, will find this new Wilson Avenue station an added convenience. The waiting room will be an ideal community meeting place.

Travelers to and from Milwaukee—or intervening points—will save time and money by using the North Shore Line. A train every hour from the new Wilson Avenue Station.

The Fir a

By

When, with the advent of Christmas, the season of giving begins, it is not unusual for the gift-giver to be faced with the problem of choosing a gift that is both useful and desirable. One of the most popular gifts for the home is a Christmas tree. The tree is not only a centerpiece for the holiday, but it also provides a place for the family to gather and celebrate. The tree is a symbol of life and hope, and it is a tradition that has been passed down for generations. The tree is a reminder of the past and a promise for the future. It is a gift that brings joy and warmth to the home. The tree is a gift that is truly worth-while.

INSTANT THE AMBASSADOR

"You have never discovered Christopher's delight?" "Christopher is delightful." "You are making it now." "I was only recognizing the fact that I don't know what you want with Christopher, do you?" "Certainly not. Besides, that that sort of love is invention, not love." "Is it?" "She was interested, because no one else was. You create your own love, your own and your own and your own. And how do they come out?" "Strained and distorted." "O, no! There was passion in it. Well, supposing they come out. Can you live his life by some one else's? Or, she said, 'I am getting love then?' There was a light in his eyes."

China Dinner Sets, $25 Set

100 pieces of French china in the charmingly decorated with flower design. Tea sets at $13.50 are of imported china in a luster effect, in tan or orange. 23 pieces. Flower bowls, green or yellow pottery, 7-inch size, with bird flower holder, $4.50.

Second Floor, North.

He went and stood over her. "Helen," he said, "stand up."

She obeyed.

"Helen," he said in a low voice as he had never kissed her before, "woman is any man's desire—a hot and heart, an impulse uncontrolled, a desire that is not his own. She did not feel bitter or indignant, as Toby had once imagined something elemental and universal woman but woman, was perhaps that just to himself. He was smiling with a special irony that illuminated her relations to Toby."

He loved her. It is difficult to be a man. Toby, walking down some stairs, always rather smiling after, had a unique thing, deserving the most orange catfish feather fan and the who suggests that you will meet the down the street; and what about the primary writing paper and some pink of lovely smiling wax? Near obtrusive men's handkerchiefs also, with soft, deep shony heads about among long coral reefs of a black companion may nature that even the most luxurious in whereas the really perfect ostrich paper in secret hidden drawers. He was then growing—of course, from an ever have produced to beautiful balcony, what two were over the night. Toby, choosing hats and ties made up his mind whether it was to do these things. He was not a man to be satisfied without an effort without being eager, but how in love, not made. Toby, after all, things oughtn't to match, and yet Helen's evening dress had been chosen. ### How to Be Happy Though Married

BY DORIS BLAKE

From the thousands of domestic difficulties that have come before the Legal Aid society in New York, its attorney in chief, Leonard McGee, has formulated twenty suggestions for living happily with one's husband and one's wife. These men are in need of a rule of conduct for the making of a woman in the game of making matrimony a success. Mr. McGee is convinced, since his twenty suggestions are divided into two parts—ten for men and ten for women.

How to Be Happy Though Married

BY DORIS BLAKE

From the thousands of domestic difficulties that have come before the Legal Aid society in New York, its attorney in chief, Leonard McGee, has formulated twenty suggestions for living happily with one's husband and one's wife. These men are in need of a rule of conduct for the making of a woman in the game of making matrimony a success. Mr. McGee is convinced, since his twenty suggestions are divided into two parts—ten for men and ten for women.

CLOSING THE DOOR

If the door is open, what if you do?

I do not touch it, as I pass through.

And if it's shut?

Why then I shut it.

It sounds remarkably easy, but it is different with the Goops.

Yes, they will always do the opposite way.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. William G. Rockefeller will give a reception next Saturday afternoon at the Colony club for her niece, Miss Elizabeth Stillman.

Count and Countess Constantini are returning to this country aboard the Majestic after having passed several weeks at La Laggia, their residence at Florence, Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Cushing III, who returned to 24 East 94th street after having passed a short time at the Ambassador hotel in Atlantic City, N. J., and Mrs. J. Allen Townsend have returned to their new home at 903 Park avenue from Locust Valley, L. I.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Children Need Clothing.

"Has some kind reader children's clothing to give to me? My twins are 1 1/2 years of age and the baby is 3 months. She is really in need of little shirts and the girls have outgrown all of their scanty clothing—dresses especially. I would appreciate any kind of clothing obtainable and thank you for your kindness. # Chas. A. Stevens & Bros. The Chicago Tribune and a $4,500,000 Deal

ANNOUNCEMENT was made on Thanksgiving Day that Charles A. Stevens & Bros. had purchased for $4,500,000 the Columbus Memorial and Venetian buildings in order to double the size of their present store. Charles A. Stevens & Bros., in making good business better, use more than twice as much advertising in The Tribune as in all other mediums combined.

CHAS. A. STEVENS & BROS. operate the largest store in the world catering exclusively to women.

Furthermore, Chas. A. Stevens & Bros. use far more advertising in The Tribune than in all other Chicago papers combined.

A few weeks ago a Tribune man asked this firm what it thought of The Tribune's campaign on the subject: "Business is as good as we make it."

"Wait until December first," said Elmer Stevens. "By that time we will have done something to prove to you what we think of business prospects in Chicago."

Waiting was rewarded by the Thanksgiving day announcement that Chas. A. Stevens & Bros. had purchased for $4,500,000 the Columbus Memorial and Venetian buildings in order to be able to double the size of the present store.

Here, indeed, is proof of the optimism and confidence of this organization of business men. Here are merchants who act on the conviction that they can win from the future at least one hundred per cent more business than they now enjoy.

The merchant or manufacturer ambitious for increased volume in this market must, therefore, be deeply interested in the advertising policies adopted by Chas. A. Stevens & Bros. to build the biggest business of its kind in the world.

The basis of Stevens' sales development is newspaper advertising—seven days a week.

In placing this newspaper advertising Stevens believes in concentrating on its best market—not on scattered effort.

Consider these lineage figures:

Chicago	1922	11 months 1923
Tribune	327,207	312,583
Other papers combined	196,296	139,506
Tribune lead	130,911	173,077

The Tribune has for many years carried more of the advertising of Chas. A. Stevens & Bros. than all other mediums combined. At present the proportion, as shown above, is more than two to one in favor of The Tribune against the field.

This store knows that four out of every five prospective purchasers of Stevens merchandise read The Chicago Tribune and that the one-fifth who do not read The Tribune are not as good prospects as the four-fifths who do. The extraordinary concentration of advertising effort shown above is, therefore a logical, economical business-building policy.

Such policies enable Chas. A. Stevens & Bros. to pay $4,500,000 for neighboring skyscrapers and plan their demolition to make way for enlarging the Stevens store. "Business is as good as we make it", and some are far more efficient than others at making it good.

2. High wages are better than cheap labor.
3. Europe can't wreck our prosperity.
4. Only our own politicians can hurt us.

IT'S PITTSBURGH PLUS GROTESQUE, ECONOMIST SAYS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Frank A. Pether, professor of political economy at Princeton university, punctured the defenses of the "Pittsburgh plus" practice in many vital places here today before Special Examiner John W. Bennett of the Federal Trade commission.

Characterizing the practice as "grotesquely uneconomic" and "unfair," he contended that the claim of the steel corporation that the "Pittsburgh plus" method of steel pricing, by which the unearned freight from the price on steel made and delivered from other producing centers, exists in response to economic law and not because of the fact of the steel mills.

FRANK A. PETHER, Princeton University professor of political economy, here today before Special Examiner John W. Bennett of the Federal Trade commission.

Price Boosting Process.

Prof. Pether briefly disposed of the steel mill's claim that Pittsburgh is the sole real steel market. He showed that Chicago and other steel markets are restricted because of unfair price discrimination, and that the Chicago mills often "dump" their products elsewhere at lower prices than they obtain in the Chicago market, in order to maintain high prices in Chicago.

Markets Should Be Free.

"Every real market should have its own natural territory," said Prof. Pether, and then went on to show that the Chicago wheat market is an outstanding example of a free market, where buyers and sellers converge and bid against each other without interference, while the pricing of steel, through the addition of the "Pittsburgh plus" charge, he said, was an example of a controlled market.

Prof. Pether said it would be "impossible to have prices such as 'Pittsburgh plus' imposed if the law of supply and demand were working."

The "dumping prices" of the Chicago steel mills, he said, are "fixed and crystallized and bear no relation to the ordinary law of supply and demand." He then went on to say that "Pittsburgh plus" is a "grotesque thing from the standpoint of a really competitive market."

J. W. COVERDALE IN FINAL FIGHT FOR HIS POLICY

Tells Convention of 'Balanced Program' BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

John W. Coverdale, ousted secretary of the American Farm Bureau federation, took the floor at the annual convention of the federation at the Sheraton hotel last night to make a last stand and try to prove that his "balanced program" had real merit.

He presented evidence to prove his points, using a 1931 red and black chart headed, "Does Your Work Hold Your Members?" He classified the forty-three farm bureau states into three groups and showed that in those states where cooperative marketing projects strongly predominate seven consistently lost members this year and only one gained.

Show Membership Gains.

Seven states in the second group, which have followed a balance program, advocated by Mr. Coverdale, show a gain, and nine have held a steady membership, or a total of sixteen states have gained or held their own during the year. Only six out of the twenty-two showed a slight loss.

The third group of thirteen states in which educational and legislative projects predominate, nine show a loss in members and four held their members.

Mr. Coverdale insisted he is not opposed to cooperative marketing as he had been accused.

Sapirio Presents His Case.

Earlier in the day Aaron Sapirio, cooperative marketing attorney from California, and Walton Peet, cooperative marketing director of the farm bureau federation, leaders of the anti-administration faction, presented their program to the farmer delegates.

O. E. Boudreau, president of the bureau, probably will be re-elected today. Yesterday the directors voted thirty-eight yes, six no, and eight abstaining in rejecting the credentials of John P. Burton, member of the executive committee and an opponent of the Coverdale group.

DITCH CAYEN IS FATAL.

Thomas O'Neill, 65, 1350 West 63rd street, was suffocated yesterday when a ditch in which he was working caved in.

$50,000 BANK'S CHRISTMAS GIFT TO 300 WORKERS

Nearly $50,000 in gold eagles will be distributed as an annual Christmas gift to the 300 employees of Greenbaum Sons Bank and Trust company, it was announced last night at a banquet of the bank's fellowship club.

A bonus system, based upon salary and years of service, has been established by officials of the bank.

'Movies' Greatest Athlete Freed; Again Arrested

Lionel West of 5900 Sheridan road, who calls himself "the movies' greatest athlete," was dismissed yesterday on a charge of operating a confidence game. As he stepped from the South Clark street court he was arrested on a similar complaint by Sergis Noonan and Transit.

GEN. PERSHING REPORTS ON U. S. SOLDIER GRAVES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—Work on American cemeteries in France is "progressing satisfactorily," Gen. Pershing informed Secretary Weeks in a report made public today at the war department.

Gen. Pershing made the inspection after his arrival in France Oct. 25, comparing what he found with his last trip abroad two years ago.

There are now 15,174 American dead buried in France, England, and Belgium, of whom 1,588 are still "unknown." Delay in completion of buildings and landscape gardening at the six cemeteries in France, Gen. Pershing said, had been due in part to difficulties of obtaining labor.

"With the exception of some of the planting at Messaugonne (Romaine) it is believed everything will be finished by next Memorial day," he added.

The name is really deserved by Tribune Want Ads. For example, the Kimbark Apartment Corporation, 644-58 Kimbark Ave., used this small Want Ad for five days recently, including one Sunday issue.

TO RENT—3 AND 4 RM. FURN. APTS. with bath, newly furnished and decorated. ADULTS only. 5601 Lincoln St.

Mr. Meyers of the corporation reports these results: "From the five Want Ads, fifteen apartments (all we had to offer in this estimate) of one hundred replies in a conservative one, and we were forced to turn away those who came toward the last, for everything was gone."

To ask greater economy would be unreasonable. The cost of renting these fifteen apartments was sixty-two cents per apartment.

It pays to use Tribune Want Ads first!

N.W. REDUCES ITS DIVIDEND ON COMMON STOCK

BY O. A. MATHER

The Chicago and Northwestern railroad yesterday reduced its semi-annual common stock dividend from 2 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents, while the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha, which is controlled by the Northwestern, omitted its semi-annual common stock dividend of 2 1/2 cents. Both roads declared the regular preferred stock dividends.

The dividend action of the Northwestern was the outstanding news of the day. That it had not been generally expected was evidenced by a drop of more than 10 points in the common shares of this road. But even this important news failed to cause any general reaction in the securities markets and was about a considerable decrease of the dividend of extra dividends by industrial corporations.

The Northwestern's action again emphasizes the peculiar difficulties of the situation in the middle west. The northwest this year experienced the worst wheat crop failure when large crops in other parts of the country were kept at a high price. It was further hurt by a price of wheat failures at the same time that financial conditions were improving elsewhere. It lagged far behind in the trade revival of last spring.

The middle west railroads bore the brunt of these adverse conditions while the rest of the country was improving. In 1933 the Northwestern reported a loss of 10 cents a share, and in 1934 it reported a loss of 10 cents a share. The Northwestern's action is a reflection of the fact that the company is not only not profitable but is also not able to pay its dividends.

The day brought an unusually large number of favorable dividend decisions. The Northwestern's action was a reflection of the fact that the company is not only not profitable but is also not able to pay its dividends.

The Northwestern's action is a reflection of the fact that the company is not only not profitable but is also not able to pay its dividends.

THIRTY-THREE CITIES

How is a business executive in Chicago to get special information about conditions or about firms or individuals in Atlanta or Los Angeles, when he has no representatives in either city?

The Harris Organization has resident representatives in both Los Angeles and Atlanta and in thirty other cities, who are at the disposal of our depositors and friends. Private wires connect the larger cities, such as New York, Boston and Cleveland, with Chicago. A message is quickly answered and the business executive has the necessary information upon which to act. Our officers will be glad to discuss at any time how we can serve you.

BREAK IN CORN SENDS ALL GRAIN PRICES LOWER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation was on in December corn and, while the break was slow in getting under way, the market dropped rather sharply toward the last, and all grains declined and failed to show much rallying power. The finish was within a fraction of the low point, with wheat off 1/4¢, corn, 1/4¢, and rye, 1/4¢, while oats were unchanged to 1/4¢ lower.

Cash houses were persistent sellers of December corn, and the discount under the May gradually widened until at the last it was 1/4¢, the widest so far. Commission houses long sold December and bought May, helping to sustain the latter delivery, and numerous resting orders to buy were also disclosed on the way down. December finished at 79 1/4¢ and May at 79 1/4¢.

Wheat trade in West. While wheat had a range of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ trade was light and largely of a local character, the late break in corn and selling by houses with Winnipeg connections being the main depressing influence, although the greater part of the news was bearish. World's exportable surplus is estimated by Broomfield at 218,000,000 bu. in excess of importers' needs, having American surplus of 100,000,000 bu. as compared with recent figures.

Export demand shows no improvement and pressure of cash wheat at Winnipeg is increasing. No. 1 northern wheat dropped to December price for the first time, with 3,000 bu. delivered on contract. Available stocks are still increasing, the gain for the week being 1,425,000 bu., making the total 21,234,000 bu., or 3,000,000 bu. in excess of a year ago. Charters were made for 100,000 bu. wheat here to go to Buffalo. Minneapolis showed more weakness than other markets and dropped 1/4¢ to 79 1/4¢, with receipts of 251,000 bu. as against 140,000 bu. for the week. Minneapolis was off 1/4¢ to 79 1/4¢.

Oats Show Fair Strength. Oats showed independent strength early, but eased off toward the last in sympathy with other grains. Sentiment continues bullish, but there is not sufficient trade to keep values on the up-grade. North American available stocks are 25,052,000 bu., or 7,000,000 bu. less than last year.

Weakness in wheat had a depressing effect on rye, with some liquidation by local and outside longs. No. 2 on track sold at 26¢ per December.

Provisions Close Higher. Lack of aggressive selling, combined with scattered buying, induced to some extent by Secretary Hoover's statement regarding Germany's need of pork products, advanced prices quickly and largely closed 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher, with ribs 2 1/4¢ to 2 1/2¢ higher. Bellies were unchanged. Cash demand somewhat less active. Prices follow:

AVAILABLE GRAIN STOCKS

World's available supply of wheat, as compiled by Bradstreet's, increased 1,422,000 bu. last week. Stocks sent to the Red Cross increased 550,000 bu. Canada, 145,000 bu. and about 1,000,000 bu. while west of the Rockies decreased 79,000 bu. Corn in the United States and Canada increased 1,780,000 bu. and oats 1,871,000 bu. Details follow:

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Wheat sales in all positions at the board were estimated at 500,000 bu. all March. Little business was transacted in other grains.

Chicago handles sold 15,000 bu. wheat, 50,000 bu. corn, 145,000 bu. oats, and 5,000 bu. barley to the domestic trade, with 50,000 bu. corn to go to stock. Deliveries on December contracts were 41,000 bu. wheat, 75,000 bu. corn, and 70,000 bu. rye. At St. Louis deliveries were 25,000 bu. corn and at Kansas City 10,000 bu. oats.

Barley on cash wheat here was unchanged to 1/4¢ higher on hand winter with No. 1 hard 40¢ and No. 2 hard 39¢ over December. Receipts 5 cars. There were orders here for some choice wheat that could not be filled owing to lack of offerings. Outside markets easy, with Omaha 1/4¢ lower, Kansas City unchanged to 1/4¢ lower, and St. Louis unchanged.

Contract trades of cash corn are gradually losing their premium over futures. No. 2 mixed here was 1/4¢ over, yellow 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, and white 1/4¢ over December, while No. 3 mixed was 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ under yellow. No. 2 to 4 under, and white 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ under December. Receipts 10 cars. The 200 cars of No. 2 mixed had 715 cars against 1,011 cars last year. Outside markets were generally unchanged to 1/4¢ lower.

Offerings of cash oats were equal to requirements, with No. 2 white 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ and No. 3 white 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ over December. Receipts 9 cars.

SOLID SOUTH KEEP STRENGTH IN G. O. P. MEET

Convention June
at Cleveland.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—(Continued.) — What the Johnsons promptly dubbed the steam-roller 1934 made its appearance in the public national committee today flattened out all opposition to the gram of the Coolidge managers their supporters.

After voting to hold the national convention in Cleveland, beginning June 10, instead of in Chicago, bed of the Coolidge managers' for Johnson and Lowden influence in nois, the committee rescinded previously approved reform of convention representation, increasing the gate strength of the solid south.

1,100 Delegates instead of 804. Rejecting the apportionment devised in 1921, which would have solid southern representation twenty-four votes net, the committee adopted a representation plan giving the solid south eighteen more delegates than in 1921. At the same time the total representation of states outside the solid was increased 107. There will be 1,207 delegates in the 1934 convention, compared with 804 in 1920.

It is charged by friends of Sen. Johnson (Rep., Cal.) that the committee's reversal was due to the desire of the Coolidge managers to increase the number of solid southern votes controlled by the Coolidge faction. Of the fifty-three members of the national committee, twenty-six are committed or friendly to the candidacy of the President for the nomination.

Some Political Facts. According to the Johnson camp, repudiation of the decision to reduce southern representation and to increase it instead followed a series of deals with the colored Republican forces in the south, whereby Sen. Lincoln Johnson regains recognition as national committeeman for Georgia. Perry Howard is recognized in Mississippi, and the appointment of W. C. Cohan as collector of the port of Orleans is renewed.

These changes are hotly denied by the friends of President Coolidge, reminding the Johnsonites that the committee also increased the representation outside the south 107 votes. The committee, it is asserted, is a result of the violent protest of southern Republicans against the apportionment of representation.

Here's New Apportionment.

The apportionment of delegates 1934, compared with 1920, follows:

State	1920	1934	State	1920	1934
Alabama	14	18	New Hampshire	3	3
Arizona	5	5	New Jersey	12	12
Arkansas	13	14	New Mexico	3	3
California	24	29	New York	40	40
Colorado	12	14	N. Carolina	12	12
Connecticut	14	14	Dakota	10	10
Delaware	6	6	Idaho	3	3
Florida	10	10	Illinois	28	28
Georgia	17	18	Indiana	16	16

Nevada	3	3

How It Was Done.

The committee's "reversal" of apportionment was effected through a vote of 24 to 29, with 10 abstentions, by Senator Pepper (Rep., Ark.) providing that each state should have two delegates at large for each elector and representative at large, additional delegates at large for each state went Republican in 1920, and one additional delegate for each district casting 10,000 or more Republican votes in 1920.

Under this plan Illinois and other northern states with three electors each, Massachusetts with two, Tennessee, which went Republican the first time in 1900, gains 2. Senator Howell (Neb.) fought the Pepper plan but was defeated. "This thorough system," said Howell, "will lead to the cause of the republic and I fear the world will lead to a similar harvest." The committee's recommendation of a national committee has taken the place of the old national committee.
